

Past Preservers is in search of Experts, Presenters, Researchers and your Projects and Ideas

We are currently on the lookout for experts, presenters and researchers in diverse fields and geographical locations who would like to join our database for possible involvement both on and off camera in upcoming documentaries and films.

We would also like to hear from archaeologists/historians/anthropologists and others seeking media representation for their excavation, project, book or programme idea.

If you are interested, please forward us a CV, a photo and a pen portrait (you in 100 words or less) or details of your project.

For further information about us and our services or if you have any further questions, please see our website @ www.Pastpreservers.com or email us at the address below.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Nigel J. Hetherington

nigel@pastpreservers.com

Past Preservers is the creative hub between heritage and the media world.

Past Preservers

was founded by archaeologist

Nigel J.

Hetherington in 2005 to provide

historical and

archaeological

consultancy and professional

support to the media industry.

Past Preservers

provides expert

opinion and

counsel

throughout the

creative process,

from conception

to product

delivery.